

Descriptive only: very small count

Matrices show absolute unique-variant counts. Empty-vector calls are too few for a stable percentage spectrum.